A LITTLE HOBBY IS A WONDERFUL THING

Consider the Golfer, for he is the Son of Joy, and the heart of his wife rejoiceth in him.

He requirerth not to be awakened, but ariseth at dawn, and arouseth the whole house.

Mighty are his preparations, and there is much rushing about among the women to find his THINGS.

He swalloweth his breakfast without complaint, and fortifieth himself at the font within his locker.

Optimism is his middle name; and in his bright lexicon there is no such word as "Rain!"

His moods, his grouches and his temperamentalism are known only to his God and his caddy; and, in the open, where it can do no harm, he bloweth off the carbon of his brain-storms.

"The touch of liver" knoweth him not, and dyspepsia is a stranger unto him.

The sun lighteth up his countenance, and his figure keepeth its beauty, embonpoint cometh not near him.

He lacketh not a topic for conversation, and concerning his score, the TRUTH is not in him.

He is happy in his folly, and wear-eth the smile that will not come off.

He preferreth a pleasant day unto a moonlight night, and a beautiful course unto a beautiful woman.

And a smile of approval from his caddy, he findeth more thrilling than the smile of blondes or sirens.

For every man must have his folly, whereon he worketh off the original sin within him.

And some choose wine, and some tobacco, and some flirtation.

But the GOLFER exceedeth them all in wisdom.

And no man can be both a good golfer and a bad husband.—Helen Rowland.

Baseball Redecision

An eleventh hour decision to join the Rosebud League again this year was arrived at by some of the boys in town and immediate steps were taken in that direction. Mr. George Julien was very instrumental in bringing this about and states that a good team can be picked up here this year. While several of our star players have left for distant pastures there are still a few left and also some new arrivals who as yet we must call dark horses. In any case while we may not be able to brag of a team of world beaters we have a bunch of fellows who will get out and after some practice put up an interesting game. Crossfield, Carstairs, Didsbury, Olds and Innisfail are all in the league this year. Carstairs and Olds are both reported to have exceptionally strong teams which will make the games all the snappier.

Officers have not yet been selected nor has the team been altogether picked. For our battery however we have our old standby Harold Clemens who will back against any of them around here in the catchers box and needs no introduction. Mr. Stoffer, of the Crystal Dairy will probably fill the pitchers box and is at present one of our dark horses.

We'll back Harold Clemens as a catcher

In a game between the single and married men last Friday evening there was some good playing but of course very much room for improvement much of which will be overcome when the boys have had a few more practices. The game was called on account of darkness with a score of 8-4 for the singles. Doc Malmas very ably refereed.

The first outside game will be played with Carstairs at Carstairs on Friday evening and the boys would like to see numerous of the fans in attendance.

Doc Malmas poses as a referee.

In connection with sports the baseball club is also going to hold dances in the Opera House on Saturday nights commencing this Saturday. The charges are very reasonable being only 50 and 25 cents. Next week the dance may be put on on the Friday night on account of the Saturday being a holiday.

A Friendly Note Of Warning

When a man occupying the important and high office of Lieutenant-Governor of a Province feels it incumbent on him to lift his voice in public protest against the selfish attitude of people in Eastern Canada regarding matters of vital concern to the prosperity and development of the Provinces of Western Canada, it is time for those same Eastern people and interests to awaken to the fact that they are playing a nationally dangerous game.

Lieutenant-Governor Brett, of Alberta, is not a man to speak hastily or without giving due consideration to the effect any statement from a man in his position may have. He is a highly trained professional man, absolutely impartial, strictly non-partisan in a political sense, and intensely loyal to Canadian ideals and institutions. Yet on the occasion of a recent visit to Ontario he was, to use his own words, "goaded to exasperation" over the attitude assumed by Eastern people towards the West and its needs and problems to such an extent that he made known his mind in a newspaper interview in the course of which he asked the very pertinent question: "If a barrier was placed at Port William, what would happen to all the Eastern industries?"

Answering his own question, Dr. Brett declared they would be ruined. Yet Eastern interests go on blindly, and with a self-sufficiency amounting to smugness, declaring to the world and convincing themselves that they owe nothing to the West; that on the contrary, it is the East that has made and developed the West, and that his section of the Dominion is heavily in debt to them.

When a man in Dr. Brett's position even so much as hints in a published interview at the possible effects of cutting the Dominion in two at the head of the lakes, and follows that up by calling upon the people of the west to realize the absolute importance of "continuing to hammer away until they have a real voice in their own affairs," it is, we repeat, time for the East to give heed to the state of feeling they are themselves engendering in this Western country.

We do not believe there is more than a mere handful of people in Canada who would like to see the Dominion divided into two separate and distinct British commonwealths, east and west. At the same time there are unquestionably thousands who believe that economically Western Canada would be much better off, and decidedly more prosperous, if it was relieved from the handicaps imposed upon it through Eastern selfishness and self-interest.

The West demands the completion of the Hudson Bay railway. Every political party in Canada has approved its construction and pledged themselves to it. Yet the financial, transportation and commercial interests of Montreal, Toronto, Quebec and the Maritime Province seaports have been successful in denying this much needed outlet to the West.

The West stands badly in need of branch lines of railway without which tens of thousands of settlers are struggling to eke out an existence. These branch lines are likewise essential as feeders to the great transcontinental lines of our National railways, but Eastern interests opposed to Government ownership have thus far succeeded in blocking construction.

The East declares it cannot survive unless its manufacturing industries are bolstered up by high tariff protection imposed on the whole Dominion. The West has learned from bitter experience that it cannot develop and prosper under such a handicap. If the East insists upon and must have this artificial stimulus, let them have it, but give to the West, which can stand on its own feet and does not require artificial supports, freedom in regard to its own fiscal policies and needs.

The Western Provinces can only obtain "a real voice in their own affairs" by secession, by out-voting the East in the House of Commons, or by convincing the East as to the justice and necessity of admitting the West to a larger measure of authority in determining questions vitally and primarily affecting the West.

Secession should, and will be, seriously considered only as a last desperate remedy.

The ability to out-vote the Eastern Provinces can only come with enormously increased population, which increase is being delayed because of the handicaps imposed on the West.

The sane, sensible, patriotic solution is for the East to abandon their present attitude of regarding the West, as, one paper puts it, a child in need of a governess, and frankly admitting the right of Western people to a determining voice in matters absolutely vital to their own welfare and progress.

That unity essential to Canada's all-round development and prosperity as a nation can never be realized unless the East abandons its present selfish and arrogant overlordship. It is the Eastern attitude that provides fuel for the spirit of bitterness which it would be idle to deny does exist in the West. If East and West are to grow together, the one aiding and assisting the other, there must be a radical change of attitude east of the Great Lakes.

There are 564,510,000 Christians in the world and twice that many non-Christians.

No reliable estimate of the comparative wealth of nations has been published since 1914.

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine a Necessity at This Season

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood which reaches every organ in the body, bringing new strength and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

The Motor Car in Canada

The strides made by the automotive industry during the last decade have been remarkable. The motor car is no longer regarded as a luxury. It has attained its rightful place as a utility. The first auto was sold in Canada in 1869. Today the total registration runs close to 556,000. Official statistics show that 996,329 autos entered Canada during 1922 for touring purposes, representing a traffic value of $170,000,000. Thus the auto took fourth place as a revenue producer.—From the Saskatoon Star.

Paris Doing Away With Street Sweepers

Modern Machinery Taking Place of Women Workers

The old woman who shiveringly sweep the narrow streets of Paris have lost their fight against modern machinery. The city has decided their usefulness is ended. Henceforth only one vacancy in three will be filled, and before long these jobs will be abolished as their holders die or leave.

These women once were among the picturesque sights of Paris, swinging their long-handled, brushwood brooms, beginning at dawn. But now with few remaining there is more of pity than of romance in the sight. It won't be long until some good old woman will be photographed leaning on her witch-like broom and written about for the newspapers as the last of the sweepers.

"I Suffered Terribly With Sore, Aching Back"

Mrs. Roland Ferguson, 194 Lake St., Peterboro, Ont., writes:

"For over two years I suffered terribly with sore back. I was almost mad with the pain, and had doctored with it until I was discouraged. Then my father, who is a firm believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, advised me to try Dr. Chase's advice, and am glad to say I was completely relieved of that torturing pain in my back. It is over a year since I used these pills, and I have had no return of the trouble, but always keep them in the house."

PRESS FOR THE COMPLETION OF H. B. RAILWAY

Ottawa.—Warning that there was danger of a breach between the east and west unless conditions in Western Canada were improved, was given to the government by General R. W. Paterson, of Winnipeg, a member of a large delegation which came to urge the immediate completion of the Hudson's Bay railway.

General Paterson stated that he had recently been told by a westerner, who was "English to the backbone," that if the west did the best thing for itself it would join up with the United States of America. Governors of western states had declared that they were in favor of constructing the railway. He said that a number of Winnipeg business men favored construction of the road but were restrained from an expression of opinion because of the threatening attitude of big business in the east.

After listening to speeches in favor of the Hudson's Bay railway, Premier King expressed the hope that the representations made would find their way, through the press, to the people of Eastern Canada. Representations had been appearing in certain sections of the press against the completion of the work. The great national tragedy of today was that east and west seemed unable to discuss together their own peculiar problems. The biggest thing before Canada was the creation of a Canadian national sentiment. He hoped the day would come when those who were earnest in their desire for the development of this country would be able to talk

Four More Branch Lines To Be Dealt With

Ottawa.—With the exception of four, all the branch line resolutions have now been passed. Bills based thereon have received second reading and been referred to the railway committee. The four resolutions not yet taken up provide for the following branch lines: From Rosedale to Bull Pond Creek, in Alberta, a distance of 39 miles, at an estimated cost of $915,000; a line from Victoria Beach to Pine Falls, in Manitoba, a distance of 44 miles, at a cost of $1,100,000; a line from Lockport station to the town of Lockport, in Nova Scotia, a distance of four miles, at an estimated cost of $161,000; an extension of the China Clay branch of the Canadian Northern Quebec Railway to the town of St. Remi D'Amherst, in the province of Quebec, a distance of two miles, at a cost of $165,000.

together and discuss their problems at first hand.

So far as the Hudson's Bay was concerned the government could only thank the delegation and promise to give serious consideration to the representations made. The delegation represented the three prairie provinces and had among its members Robert Forke, Progressive leader, and a number of Progressive members of parliament. It was introduced by Hon. A. B. Hudson.

The Dawes' Report

Reparations Committee Will Take Plenty of Time to Digest the Finding

Paris.—Plenty of time will be taken by the Reparation Commission to review and digest the reports of the experts' committee headed by Brig. General Dawes and Reginald McKenna. The commission is not likely to act before the end of this week in view of the necessity of the members consulting their respective governments, according to allied circles.

"The Dawes report is unanimous; yet it does not represent anybody's particular views," was one succinct comment proffered in non-French circles. "Nevertheless, everybody wants as much of it as possible accepted as a basis of settlement. The question is who will begin."

It can be stated now that most of the original divergences between the French and British remain. The British still believe that the question of Germany's obligations to the allies must be definitely fixed, in order to establish her credit, before a settlement is possible, and they are, therefore, inclined to be skeptical of General Dawes' "index of prosperity" idea, which they consider apt to lead to confusing results.

Death of Hugo Stinnes

Was Leading Figure in Industrial Life Of Germany

Berlin.—Hugo Stinnes, leading figure in German industrial life, died here of pneumonia.

Hugo Stinnes was spoken of in Continental Europe as the German who owned everything in sight, and from the peculiar pleasure he found in confiding the size of his fortune to all who would listen, the details of his vast industrial enterprises, and the extent of his mining, shipping and newspaper holdings were never left very much in doubt.

Period For Re-Naturalization

As Law Stands the Time Cannot be Less Than Five Years

Ottawa.—The re-naturalization of former British subjects, now citizens of the United States, is covered by law that is uniform throughout the British Empire, and amendments to it would need to be dealt with by an imperial conference, declared Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of state, in answer to a question in the House, as to whether legislation would be introduced this session to shorten the time for naturalization of repatriates to less than five years.

Canada And The Quota Programme

Proposed U.S. Immigration Bill Discriminates Against Dominion

Ottawa.—The government will make a statement in the house shortly concerning reports that the United States Senate is proposing to discriminate between native born Canadians and naturalized citizens from other countries in the matter of immigration into the United States. Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of immigration, stated in the house.

Washington.—It is considered improbable that the amendment to the immigration bill designed to apply the two per cent. quota law to immigrants from Canada, will be adopted in the Senate. Prominent Republican senators of the immigration committee have declared their opposition to it. Senator Cole, chairman of the committee, opposes it.

Is In Perfect Health Again

So Says Madame Blanchette of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Quebec lady suffered from bad kidneys for three years and was restored to good health by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Raphael, Que.—(Special).—From all parts of Canada come the same glad tidings, telling the same glad story of sufferers that suffer no longer, of the weak being made strong and healthy, and of the good work that is being done by Dodd's Kidney Pills. People are now learning the importance of keeping the kidneys in shape, of watching for the least symptom of Kidney Trouble, and they turn at once to Dodd's Kidney Pills, because they know they have a remedy that they can rely on, a remedy that never fails. Right here in St. Raphael, Madame A. Blanchette, a much respected resident, comes forward with a statement that adds to the long list of grateful letters. She says:

"For three years I suffered with bad kidneys and no other remedy did me any good. After taking six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I am in perfect health again."

For Natural Resources

Edmonton.—Negotiations with the Dominion Government will be continued by the Alberta Government with a view to obtaining control of the natural resources of the province. This was the decision of the Legislature following the introduction of a resolution by Premier Greenfield.

Would Reduce Tariff On Autos

Ottawa.—G. C. Coote, Progressive, MacLeod, has given notice of his intention to move in the house for a substantial reduction in the customs tariff on automobiles and motor trucks.

The Canadian Farmer And the World Markets

Ottawa.—"Agriculture is having just a little harder sledding, I think," said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, at a meeting of the commons committee on agriculture and colonization, "all over the world than it has had in any previous period in my time, and if we don't keep it going, God help the rest." Mr. Motherwell was discussing the needs of educating the Canadian farmer to enable him to hold his own in the world markets. He mentioned particularly the dairy competition of New Zealand. The committee decided with a view to an educational campaign, to hear officials of the department of agriculture on beef and bacon export, dairying, wheat rust, tuberculosis in cattle, and a number of other problems.

Western Branch Lines

Total Estimated Cost Is Placed at $4,989,000

Ottawa.—Seven branch line resolutions recently passed the House of Commons and bills thereon received their first reading. All the seven lines are in the western provinces. Their total estimated cost is $4,989,000. Twelve more branch line resolutions still remain to be considered.

The lines passed upon were as follows:—

Line 24 on Melfort northeasterly line of C.N.R. to Mile 41 near Nipawin, Sask.

From Peebles on C.N. Saskatchewan Railway southerly to a point near township 10, range 3, west of 2nd meridian.

Gravelburg extension Mile 109 to Mile 120 at Neldpath, Sask.

Lloydminster, Sask., to a point in township 53 or 54, range 6, 45 miles.

From Mile 15 on St. Rose du Lac extension to Mile 37 at Rorketon, 22 miles.

Hanna to Warden, 57 miles.

Loverna 50 miles westerly, to range 9 west fourth meridian.

Dredging At Port Nelson

Asserted That Water is Too Shallow For Heavy Draft Vessels

Ottawa.—The fact that ships used in provisioning the post at Port Nelson, in the Hudson Bay, are obliged to anchor seven and one-half miles out and transship their cargo to low draft vessels, was brought out by a question in the House of Commons. Within that limit, ships to 21 feet draft or over cannot navigate.

The suction dredge Port Nelson and pontoons sent to Port Nelson during the war cost $371,881. It operated in 1915, 1916 and 1917.

Commence Spring Work

Winnipeg.—Wheat seeding has commenced at Blackie, Sask., and the district around Carleton Place, according to reports received here. Seeding is not expected to become general for another week, however. Preparatory spring work on the land has been started in many points in the west, plowing and disking being well under way in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

A REDUCTION IN TAXATION OF $24,000,000

Ottawa.—In making his budget announcement to a crowded house, Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, stated that a total reduction of $24,000,000 in taxation was contemplated for the current year by certain tariff changes and sales tax amendments. He intimated that in the current year the public debt had been decreased by over $30,000,000, including $8,000,000 received from the Imperial Government in settlement of book debts. He noted a continued growth in Canada's foreign trade and was confident that the reduction in taxation would give such an impetus to trade that it would result in greater development and prosperity in all the provinces of Canada. He announced there would be no reduction in income tax.

A summary of the government's taxation proposals for the fiscal year 1924-25 follows:

Sales tax reduced from 6 to 5 per cent. generally.

Large list of agricultural and dairying implements, mining, quarrying, lumbering and logging machinery, provisions and bread stuffs added to goods exempted from the sales tax.

Twenty Thousand Dollar Baby Christened

THERE was a christening at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, recently, and, quite apropos, it was the Montroyal. The Canadian Pacific, having on hand a very fine model of their Atlantic steamer, the Empress of Britain, placed it in drydock in Montreal about the same time that the Empress herself went into dock in the Old Country for overhauling and renaming. Upon being overhauled, the model was sent to the Mount Royal Hotel where it will remain on exhibition and where Mr. Vernon G. Cardy, resident manager of the hotel, "cracked" a bottle of champagne over the bow, thus christening the Montroyal as she moved to her new berth.

The model of the Montroyal is complete in every particular and is indeed such an excellent replica on a small scale of the former Empress that it has been insured for $20,000. The model is fourteen feet in length and provides a deal of entertainment for the visitor whether adult or juvenile.

Some remarks are being passed in regards to the state of numerous street crossings in town and there is one part of the main street which could also stand a little repairing. Pedestrians don't seem to mind the crossings so much but they're wondering when some new sidewalks will be laid. Our public works department will be having to scout around some of these days and see if they can find any loose money to make these improvements.

Golf enthusiasts in Didsbury are changing their course from its present location north of town to either the butte or south end of town.

PASSING OF W. CURLE

Mr. W. Curle, of Olds, and well known in this district passed away in Olds last Saturday. Mr. Curle was a keen booster of sports in the Rosebud League and was also known in a business way here. The following is an extract from the account in the Olds Gazette:

At 4:30 a. m. on Saturday morning our good friend Curle had "crossed the bar" in the prime of his manhood, being only thirty-five years of age. It was hard to realize and the bearers of the sad news had a hard task in convincing the citizens that "Webb" Curle, the children's friend, a genuine sportsman, a town booster and "square-shooter," would no more mingle with us, and he has left a void that will be extremely difficult to fill in the realm of sport.

ORIGINAL RED CAP IN SEIGE OF PARIS

First of force on Continent is still at work in Canadian Pacific Windsor Station

Remains Patriotic Frenchman

BEHIND all great transportation companies must always exist the human factor. Many of these human factors are visible, but there are many thousand individuals who are not seen at all, and others who are seldom seen, yet all of them vitally necessary in maintaining the smooth running of the system.

Of the visible aids are the baggagemen, but it is probable that the travelling public seldom give them a second thought after receiving a check, unless it is to protest against being charged exorbitantly. The baggagemen form an important link in the chain and the searcher in the hunt for interesting individuals who is permitted to explore that almost unknown land behind the counter, is certain to be rewarded in his efforts.

It was on such a voyage of discovery at Windsor street (Montreal) station of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that Monsieur Louis Dupart entered the horizon of the explorer, and added to the general knowledge of one individual.

Louis Dupart has several claims to fame. One is that he is the only man of that name in Canada—that is his own statement—another is that he is the original "Red Cap," having been the actual Number One on the American Continent, and witness what an army has developed from the original private in the ranks.

It might be thought from this that Mr. Dupart is a colored man, but make no mistake on that score; he is not, and, further, is a native of one of the most delightful cities of the world, Paris. In his birthplace Mr. Dupart touches history. While yet a lad he witnessed some of the scenes of the siege in 1871 and remembers the hunger that was one sad feature of those stirring times. Mr. Dupart remains the patriotic Frenchman, and by virtue of his service is always allowed to absent himself on July 14th, the French national festival.

"Paris was terrible then," commented Mr. Dupart, "and not like the gay city it was to afterwards become, so that in 1873 the 'Canada Agent' there had but little difficulty in persuading my parents to make their way across the Atlantic. The 'Agent' promised wages of three to four dollars a day, but when we came we found them only eighty cents, and it was great satisfaction afterwards to learn that he had been sent to jail. We sailed on the Scandinavian of the old Allan line."

Started at Fifteen Dupart, senior, set up a forge in Duke street, Montreal, and it was in that sturdy neighborhood that Louis grew up until at the age of fifteen, a Mr. Cook, then superintendent of the Y.M.C.A., used his influence to have him placed at work in Bonaventure station. There was some difficulty in finding work for Louis, but eventually he was given a badge, and told to help the passengers with their hand baggage, and thus became the original Red Cap.

In 1887, Mr. Dupart joined the service of the Canadian Pacific and at Dalhousie station—the old structure is yet standing—became a baggageman and a relief for the police and the ticket men, and when Windsor street station was opened years afterwards he was transferred to the new building. In the thirty-five years of service with the Canadian Pacific Mr. Dupart witnessed many changes in the railway itself and in the city, remembering when cows were pastured in St. Catherine street, now the uptown shopping district of Montreal. In himself he has changed only to the extent of becoming more philosophical, which has enabled him to appreciate that even a baggageman may prove a world of boundless interest.

BIG ATTRACTIONS FOR TOURISTS

The fact that three big events are being staged in Alberta within a few days of each other in the month of July this year, lends added attraction for the tourists who will visit the province during the season. These events are the Mounted Police Pageant at Macleod, July 1, 2 and 3; the Calgary Stampede, the largest of its kind on the continent, during the week following; and the Edmonton Agricultural Fair and Stampede and the Dominion Convention of Elks the third week. This makes it possible for tourists coming through from the United States to take in the three events and some side trips to the Mountain Parks all within three weeks.

The Mounted Police celebration will be of particular interest, being the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the first Mounted Police Post in Western Canada. The Calgary Stampede will be better than ever, and the Edmonton Fair will have many added attractions.

'TO SMOKE OR NOT TO SMOKE'

THAT is the question which has been causing deep thought and raising piles of reports and correspondence among Canadian Pacific officials who have to do with the operation of observation cars on Trans-Continental trains during the last few months. At various times previous to the war, smoking in these cars was permitted, sometimes only for cigars and cigarettes and then again even for the odorous pipe itself. During the war smoking was a luxury which many were willing to forego, and the observation cars were free from tobacco, but after the war the demand for permission to smoke in these favored precincts increased to a noticeable degree, the requests coming not only from men but from ladies, as the cigarette habit has undoubtedly grown among the fair sex. The pressure of this public opinion became so pronounced that it was decided to experiment once more and to allow smoking in this part of the train, although it was admitted that the trains carrying such cars had also sleeping cars each with its smoking compartment. Public opinion, however, is a fickle thing, and the demand has grown to exclude the human volcanoes from these cars. Some of those who originally urged the granting of the permission are now requesting its withdrawal, evidently finding that the practise is not quite so delightful as the theory of perfect freedom. In its desire to give the greatest satisfaction to as many as possible, the Canadian Pacific has therefore decided to conclude the experiment for the time being and, commencing April 15th, to request the smokers to enjoy the society of Lady Nicotine in the smoking compartments and smoking cars expressly provided for the purpose.

A Daughter Of The Ranch

A Story of Romance and Adventure of Western Pioneer Days

— BY —
ALEXANDER D. McLEOD

(Published by Special Arrangement with the Author)

With renewed hope they resumed their advance. Settling into a steady canter, miles of prairie were passed in silence. After three hours of steady travelling, they came to the stretch of broken prairie, where the outlaws had stopped for rest and refreshments. Here they also stopped to water and feed their horses and give them a short rest. They estimated that a two hours ride would bring them to the vicinity of the Souris River.

Their next two hours ride proved uneventful. When, according to their calculations, they were within about two miles of the valley, to escape detection, they decided to make a detour and approach the river some distance to the east of the point towards which the trail of the bandits led. With this object in view, they turned to their left and followed a slight depression in the land, evidently a water run, or coulee, which they judged would lead to the valley to the south. In this they were not mistaken, for, as they proceeded, it became deeper with more or less scrub willows growing along the bottom of it. This offered more or less cover for them as they continued to approach the valley.

By following the windings of the coulee, which deepened the further they advanced, they at last emerged from its mouth as it cut into the high banks of the Souris Valley. Down the sides of the valley they carefully worked their way till they gained the level ground beneath. Here, in a sheltered nook, protected from view by the

SAVED HER FROM AN OPERATION

So Thinks Mrs. Tracey of Ontario, Regarding Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Knightsbridge, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the change of life for troubles that women often have at that time. I had not been well for a year and was not really able to do my work. A friend who had taken the Vegetable Compound herself recommended it to me and I think its use saved me from an operation. I highly recommend it to all women who have troubles like mine, and am willing for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. DANIEL J. TRACEY, Knightsbridge, Ontario.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But the more common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing symptoms first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles.

surrounding trees and underbrush, they held a consultation to formulate their plans of procedure from this point. They concluded that the camp of the outlaws must be at least two miles to the west of their present position. They accordingly decided to work their way carefully in that direction, hugging the hillside as closely as possible, and, at the same time, keep under the cover afforded by the underbrush and trees that grew on the bottom flats. Acting according to these plans, they proceeded on their way, keeping, at the same time, a sharp lookout to avoid discovery. They felt certain that the outlaws would have sentinels posted against surprise and attack.

Finally they came to a spot that was well protected from view on all sides. Considering it a safe and well secluded spot they decided to leave their horses, to permit them to carry on further observations without their encumbrance. Leaving them tethered to graze, they took their firearms and cautiously advanced. Keeping well under cover, they made their way slowly along. Finally they came across the trail by which the bandits had descended the side of the valley. Realizing that they must be now fairly close up to their camp, they decided to proceed no farther in that direction. Ronald proposed to his companion that he take a safe position, concealed in the underbrush, and keep a sharp lookout for any movement that might take place. He, himself, would climb the hill and take observations with his field glasses from the higher ground with a view to getting the exact location of the camp.

Leaving his rifle with Mr. Fraser, Ronald ventured on alone. After cautiously ascending the hill, he worked his way up to a point where he almost had a clear view of the valley through his field glasses. As far as he could see from his position there was no sign of man nor beast within his range of vision. A curve in the valley, about a half a mile to the west of him hid from view a section of it lying beyond. He, accordingly, decided to work his way along the brow of the hill to the projecting point of the curve from where, he thought, he could get a broader view along the length of the valley in both directions. As much open ground lay between him and the point he wished to reach, he decided to make a detour along the prairie, in order to reach it from the rear by creeping along in the grass in the most exposed places. This meant a tedious undertaking and a dangerous one, that would take some time to achieve. He, however, decided to take the chance, even at the risk of exposing himself to the danger of discovery. It took him nearly an hour to accomplish his purpose, but eventually succeeded in safely reaching the desired position. In a short time he had examined all the section of the valley visible from that point of vantage. Still he could see no sign of the camp.

While he commanded a good view of the valley, yet there was a section close beneath his point of observation that he was unable to see owing to a shelving projection of the bank about fifty feet below him. To enable him to get a better and closer view of the ground at the base of the hill, he made his way down the steep decline to this shelving bank, which he was able to do successfully under cover of buffalo willows that grew in the slight depressions on the hillside.

His efforts were rewarded by discovering the camp, and, at the same time obtaining a good view of the recess in the embankment in which it was located. It lay not more than four hundred yards beneath and to the west of him. As he examined the ground through his field glasses, he could see a number of horses concealed in the brush. He also had a clear view of the open space within this enclosure, where the tent was located. He could distinguish three men, two reclining on the grass, and the third leisurely sauntering about. To the right was the tent, but, apparently there was no one in its vicinity.

Well satisfied with his investigations so far, he decided to remain where he was to await further developments. The two men, who were missing, he accounted for by assuming that they would naturally be posted as sentinels. But, so far, he could see no sign of the missing girl. He was, however, well satisfied that she was there, and, acting on that conviction he kept his attention riveted to the tent and grounds.

He remained stationed in this position for about two hours, when he was finally rewarded by seeing the object of his search coming out of the tent. She stood for a few moments at the entrance, evidently regarding and watching her captors. Then she strolled about and took a circle around to the rear of the tent. Finally sitting down and reclining on the grass she remained in this position for some time. Later she arose, and sauntering about the tent, she finally came back from the rear and re-entered it.

Cheered and encouraged by the sight of her, he continued to closely watch her every movement. With his glasses focused on her and her surroundings, he took in the smallest details. The young woman who had fascinated his imagination, and the vision of whom had never left him since he accidentally met her on the trail the previous evening, was within a few hundred yards of him, so far safe, but yet held captive by a villainous gang of outlaws. As he sat and watched her, he chafed under the self-restraint, imposed by his conviction, that an attempt at rescue in the open would prove futile. In his momentary eagerness he deplored the oversight of leaving his trusty rifle behind, even though his better judgment discountenanced the notion he entertained of being able to pick the outlaws off one by one, and thus rescue her from their clutches. But, setting aside all rash schemes of an advance in the open, which would only expose him to unavoidable dangers, he continued his observations of the movements in the camp. His better judgment counseled him to wait till the darkness of late night would enable them to achieve their purpose by strategy. Under the cover thus afforded them their chances against the odds of numbers would be equalled.

As twilight was deepening and the shadows of evening enveloped the valley, he saw the two missing men return to camp. They approached and spoke to the man whom, from his action, he had taken to be the leader. Apparently acting on the information given, he motioned to the other men to approach. Acting on his evident instruction they watered and tethered their horses on the more open ground. When this was done, he distinguished them in the gloaming making their beds for the night's camping. As this preparation had an important bearing on his own plans for the night, he, in the semi-darkness, tried to take in all the details. He noted the location of their beds with respect to the tent, and all the movements of the leader till he settled down reclining in front of it.

Convinced that no immediate danger threatened the girl, and satisfied that he carried in his head the plan of the encampment, he decided to return to his companion. Under cover of the darkness he carefully worked his way back to the top of the hill, upon gaining which he made rapid progress, and was soon able to join his comrade, who was by now impatiently awaiting his return.

Without waiting to exchange views, they walked back in silence to the place where they had left their horses, a few hours before. On reaching them they sat down to discuss the situation, and to lay their plans for action. Ronald gave in detail the location and position of the camp as he had seen it. He pointed out the position of the men, the tent, the man on guard in front of it, and the horses grazing in the vicinity. Mr. Fraser, who had carried on some independent investigations of his own, discovered that the trail the bandits followed along the foot of the hill, from the point they descended into the valley, could be easily followed in the dark. They then decided that, along about the hour of midnight, they would work their way along the trail to the edge of the camping ground and, if all were quiet, Mr. Fraser would take up a position out of sight, and be prepared to advance if needed. Ronald would quietly approach the tent, and, if possible, rescue the girl without rousing the men. Or, if this were not possible, he was to rush in, shoot her guard, and give the girl a chance to escape in the underbrush before the sleeping men would have a chance to get into action. It was a desperate undertaking, but the occasion demanded desperate measures. With their plans outlined, they impatiently awaited the time for action.

The Boy Scout Ideal

League of Nations Put Their Seal of Approval on Movement

A friend who is closely conversant with the methods of the League of Nations sent me lately his congratulations on the fact that the league had passed a resolution inviting the governments of all the member nations to facilitate, as far as possible, an interchange of visits between the Boy Scouts, the Girl Guides and students of the various countries. He considered this a particularly high tribute to our work and to its ideals, more especially as "students" had only been included in the recommendation as an afterthought.

The resolution was primarily framed on the deserts of the Scout movement. He said that the league realized the value of our training because in its own work it is occasionally liable itself to feel the want of Scout upbringing among its own members. Why? Because no country as far as he knew had as yet included in its school curriculum the one quality, which above all others was most needed among mankind today, and which alone the Scout and Guide movement has taken up as the aim of its training, namely, in self-denial, service for others.

Everywhere men are still being trained in a school where self-interest is taught as the motive, where efficiency for success in their career is the first aim, where the higher quality of submission of self to the interests of others is omitted. It is in this narrow upbringing that the average man's outlook on the world is at present formed, hence rivalry, fear and mistrust between man and man, class and class, creed and creed, nation and nation; cult of self is the root of all evil. Should his innate better sense prevail, so that here and there an individual rises in spite of it to be a patriot, his vision in very many cases is still strenuously limited to the individual interests of his own country. Overstrong national patriotism is still inclined to blind him to a wider field, that of world patriotism.

The Scout's training is in service, so that is where the Scout ideals made their appeal, namely among men who could really appreciate their value, and who saw in the teaching of "service" the satisfaction of a world-wide need. By "service" I mean the submission of self to the willing rendering of helpfulness to others without thought of return or reward.

Very Dry in Worcester

At the Hotel Windsor in Montreal recently a man, evidently of Scottish descent, was approached by Colonel George Ham, famous raconteur, and one of Montreal's leading citizens.

"How is your brother Jock getting along down in Worcester?" asked the colonel. "It must be pretty dry for him down there."

"Dry!" replied Sandy. "Man, he's gone parched. I've just had a letter from Jock and the postage stamp was stuck on with a pin."

Demand and Supply

American Farmers Will Soon Produce
For Home Market Only

Not until American farmers have adopted the policy of producing only enough wheat for the domestic market will a tariff be able to afford real protection to them. The sheer drift of economic forces seems destined in time to bring about a condition in which American wheat farmers will produce for the home market only. Last year the world took only 173,500,000 bushels of our wheat, including flour, compared with 233,800,000 bushels in 1922, and with 366,000,000 in the fiscal year 1920. With the other great wheat producing countries able to grow wheat cheaper than the United States, and with the present great world sowings, a substantial reduction of our wheat acreage is inevitable.—New York Herald.

SPRING WEATHER
HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or relieving colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ills of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mr. and Mr. J. R. Miller motored to Calgary on Tuesday.

Mr. Jim Phillipson spent several days in Calgary last week.

Miss Marion Gibbs was a visitor in Calgary last week.

Mr. Ward Keith spent the week end in town.

Mr. Jim Clarke of Calgary was visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Mertens over the week end.

The 18th annual U. F. A. picnic and stampede will be held at Dog Pound on July 16th.

Mrs. K. S. Austin of Edinburgh, Scotland, arrived in Didsbury on Tuesday for a visit with her son, Mr. W. A. Austin.

John F. Miller, Alberta's Sight Specialist of Calgary, 404 Underwood Bldg., will be at the hotel in Didsbury on Friday, May 23rd.

There will be a service of Holy Communion in the Church of England on Sunday next, May 18th. An appeal is made to all members to make a special effort to attend this Easter communion.

A miscellaneous shower was held in honor of Mrs. L. Lewis, nee Miss Lilly Rupp, at her sisters, Mrs. H. C. Rennie, on Wednesday evening. There were many old friends turned out on this occasion and a very enjoyable social evening was spent.

The Wednesday half holidays become effective next week but owing to Saturday the 24th being a holiday and the stores closed, the stores will remain open on the Wednesday of that week. Commencing on Wednesday May 28th however the stores will close at 10 o'clock until the fall.

A fire alarm was rung at about half past two Thursday afternoon the scene of action being on Mr. Revell's farm about a mile west of town. A straw stack on fire was menacing some of the buildings. It took little time for many town people to run out in cars and the danger was soon averted. One of the engines was hauled out behind the Hub Grocery truck and will be left there for a while.

NORMA TALMADGE PORTRAYS FAMOUS COURT COQUETTE

Norma Talmadge, of great beauty and many talents, again registers her histrionic versatility, this time as one of the most alluring and lovable of coquettes, in her portrayal of the Duchess of Langeals in the big spectacular production of "The Eternal Flame," playing at the Opera House next Wednesday and Thursday.

The story, by Balzac, is laid during the reign of Louis XVIII in the Second Restoration Period. With the passing of a season, the court grows curious as to why the Duchess has become a bitterly cynical coquette, conferring her favors equally on all her admirers, accepting the homage of all Paris, yet giving nothing in return. It was a period of extravagant frivolities, magnificent dissipation, yet her life was without reproach.

Then General Armand de Montriveau, an intimate friend of Napoleon, became the fashion in Paris by the strange law of contraries. A man of battles and grim realities, utterly unversed in the ways of women and love, he was an outstanding figure among the brainless coxcombs of the court, and therefore the mark of the patrician coquettes' wiles.

With the arrival of DeMontreiveau, the Duchess contrives a conquest which changes the course of her whole life and results in a romance as splendid as that of the Immortal Beauties.

"The Only Remedy" Says This Doctor

"The treatment of skin diseases (eczema) and diseases of the scalp is known to be difficult," writes Dr. W. L. Randolph. "However, there is one remedy that is known to be entirely dependable in this distressing and troublesome disease. I refer to D. D. D. Prescription."

"If you have never tried D. D. D. for skin diseases, whether a small spot, or whether one of the dreaded forms—the torment of eczema or the hard scales of psoriasis—put a bottle at once on our guarantee that if it doesn't relieve you your money will be refunded. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too."

Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing

The great annual event in Didsbury, which was skipped last year for various reasons, will again come off with a roar this year. July 29th and 30th are set for our big Agricultural Fair. These dates are a little earlier than usual and so will probably reduce entries in the grain and vegetable classes but these will be more than made up for in the live stock exhibits and the management state that we may confidently look forward to the best Fair we have had for some years. The earlier date will also facilitate the attendance of many in the farming districts who find it impossible to attend later.
